

Writer's Notebook Grading Rubric

Written Reflection. Includes content and conventions.	No attempt made. 0 points	Poorly written and incomplete with many errors. 1 points	Limited evidence of understanding of the assignment. 2 points	Minimal evidence of understanding of the assignment. Simple language that lacks support, insight, and reflection. 3 points	Adequate evidence of understanding of the assignment. Clearly written, suitable vocabulary, with some errors. Suitable support and reflection. 4 points	Proficient evidence of understanding of the assignment. Thoughtfully written showing some complexity. Fully developed vocabulary and sentence structure. May contain errors but they do not distract. 5 points	Superior evidence of understanding of the assignment. Sophistication of thought as well as vocabulary and sentence structure. Fully developed and may be error free. 6 points
Evidence of Engagement. Includes ideas and organization.	No attempt made. 0 points	Very little evidence of engagement with the topic. 1 points	Limited evidence of engagement. Effort is superficial and not thoughtful. 2 points	Minimal evidence of engagement. Few reflections, analyses, and connections. 3 points	Adequate evidence of engagement. Reflections, analyses, and connections are made regularly but may lack depth and complexity. 4 points	Proficient evidence of engagement. Responses, reflections, analyses and connections are made and show some complexity of thought. 5 points	Superior evidence of engagement. Responses, reflections, analyses, and connections are made and show complexity and insight. Response is specific and thoughtful. 6 points